Art Unit: 2822

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-36 and 43-50 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Miller et al (6,155,699).

Miller teaches a structure for a LED having a lens of various materials including TiO_2 , etc and has a variety of layers including glass, phosphorescents etc. Miller in column 5 teaches alternating layers of both high and low refractive index.

Given the teaching of LED, a diode, by definition is a stack of at least a p layer and and n layer, and renders obvious the claimed invention.
